Portal

The circular shape of Portal is an elegant, and soft handle choice. Working particularly well when paired with a modern slab, its playful, Scandinavian-inspired design captures an eclectic, and somewhat retro feel.

A timeless shape that delivers optimal grip for the user, Portal draws the eye, revealing just enough of its round backplates to add a bold, crafted detail to your design.

Edge

Subtly sculpted into the perimeter of the door, Edge offers a refined and considered handle that is as attractive as it is functional. Appearing to be at one with the frontal, its slightly radius corners soften the overall design for an inviting, unified appearance.

Our most flexible handle choice, it is equally suited to modern and traditional settings. Use it to add depth and interest to minimal slabs or pair with a Shaker to complement natural timber frames.

Channel

The rectangular, linear appearance of Channel offers a contemporary and reserved handle that emphasises flow and movement.

This sophisticated shape features slightly rounded edges and a striking rectangular backplate, to create an ergonomic handle that emphasises the modern nature of slab frontals.
